PDF-XChange Pro 4.0198.198 With SERIAL Setup Free I am facing a issue with PDF-XChange Pro and am looking for some help. PDF-XChange Pro is not installed on Windows 7 64-bit version as I have already used trial version that doesn't work when I upgraded to 64-bit version. Can someone suggest a proper way to upgrade? A: The software is apparently not available for 64bit Windows 7. It seems the trial version is limited to 32bit windows only. In any case, to clarify some confusion: You will need the KEYGEN option and an install disk for Office 2K to activate your license. Once the software is activated using an Office 2K install DVD, you can use the SERIAL key from the Office 2K license DVD to activate the software. The SERIAL is a very short bit of code that is added to the PDF file during the creation process. It does not need to be saved with the PDF or anywhere else. In this case it is added to the first page of the PDF. And in the case of the free trial, the SERIAL will need to be inserted at the start of the PDF. The key should be hidden behind the license text, so that you can just enter the serial to activate. It is best not to use a serial generated from another license, as the serial is unique to each PDF. Q: Why are there a lot of "type in search box" features in StackExchange sites? I recently noticed that these two features were added to one of the StackExchange sites I'm using: "Type in search box" ...and when I clicked on it I was redirected to the search box like: and this message box appears: Does someone know why this is implemented? Why was it done? Thanks. EDIT: I noticed this in all StackExchange sites I'm using, for example in Mathematics. A: This particular field is called "Multi-word search", it actually allows you to do a search for two words simultaneously: this prevents the need of using "AND" to combine two search strings. For example, the following search (which will return the titles of questions that have the words "pipe" and "heat" in the title) will also be returned by the same search: f678ea9f9e
